

DARKNESS OF CELEBRITY

I had the chance to be a star,
To play the part that carries far
The wishes others seek to see
Beyond capacities of me.

I had a chance to show them all,
That I'm the one those others call
To realize so many schemes,
My self discarded making dreams.

I had a chance and took it lightly,
Set my sights on something tightly
Held to be so rightly wrought
On each immortal soul so taught

To take a chance on different things,
Whatever blessed nature brings
Besides the vain inglorious shove
That moves one from the light of Love.
